Case Notes 1

(Please type the date, followed by your name each time a case note is entered.)

Date: 11/5/2013	Name: Suzy Puroll
Mariah and I met to discuss her involvement in YouthBuild. She has missed a great deal of time, often due to her self-reported high anxiety and periods of depression. Mariah and I discussed her trying therapy and medication again to treat her depression and anxiety. I gave Mariah the number for Community Mental Health and she agreed to consider calling the access center. Due to her attendance record, Mariah was given a suspension for the rest of the week. Mariah will take this time to 1) complete civic service, 2) Consider treatment for mental health, and 3) Decide if she is ready to commit to full participation in YouthBuild.
Date: 11/13/2013	Name: Suzy Puroll
Mariah, her mother, Vickie Hankins, and I discussed Mariah's participation in YouthBuild. Mariah has decided she will continue on in YouthBuild and has agreed to seek treatment for her mental health. Mariah has moved back in with her parents in East Jordan, which is a positive move for her financially and emotionally. Mariah will ride with her mother to Boyne City in the morning, where I will pick her up and bring her to YouthBuild. Mariah will take Charlevoix County Transit back to Boyne City when YouthBuild is finished. Mariah understands that full participation means the construction portion of the day. She has proper cold weather gear and will come prepared every day for outside work.
Date: 11/30/2013	Name: Suzy Puroll
I contacted Mariah on 11/26 and she said she planned on attending YouthBuild. She attended on 11/26 and the day was fine during academic time. During the construction time in the afternoon, myself and the Construction Coordinator had to ask Mariah three times to participate in the day. Mariah said she just didn't feel like working. We talked about employability skills and what it takes to be successful on the job. Mariah appeared to leave for the day in positive spirits. Mariah called me on 11/29, three days later, after not calling in or answering calls to say she quit YouthBuild. Mariah said she didn't want to do the work and thought she could complete the GED better on her own. We discussed alternatives including the Learning Lab.
Date: 12/7/2012	Name: Suzy Puroll
Mariah came in today to gather the belongings she had left. She came in with her current boyfriend. Mariah stated that they had plans to study for the GED together. I recommended Mariah contact the Aaron Sue Meyer and the Learning Lab in East Jordan for assistance with her GED. Mariah said she appreciated the YouthBuild program but was no longer interested in attending.
Date: 2/1/2013	Name: Suzy Puroll
Mariah was exited unsuccessfully from the YouthBuild program. Mariah did not complete any of the GED tests nor the Construction Certification while enrolled in YouthBuild. In this writer's opinion, Mariah had difficulty managing the academic workload and staying on task during the assigned academic times. Mariah found it difficult to fully participate in daily group activities, often removing herself from the group. During the vocational training, Mariah had difficulty understanding multiple step instructions and staying on an assigned task. In addition, Mariah's overall attendance record was sporadic. Per Mariah's request, a letter stating the above was written for her records.
