Congratulations!

It is with great pleasure that I have the opportunity to congratulate you on your performance on the GED tests. I am sure you will find this a great accomplishment and positive step forward toward your future and life goals!

You should receive an official GED certificate from the GED state office in Lansing in the next few weeks. Also, your scores should be available at this test center or any official GED test center nationwide. If you request forwarding of scores to any employer/employment office, institution of training or higher education, the request must be in writing before it can be acknowledged.

Again, congratulations on your current and continued success.

WHAT DO THE GED TESTS MEASURE?

The Tests of General Educational Development (GED® Tests) consist of five content area tests which measure achievement in subjects associated with a high school program of study. The five tests, and their relative content emphases, are:

1. LANGUAGE ARTS, READING: Literary Texts (poetry; drama; prose fiction before 1920, between 1920-1960, and after 1960) (75%); Nonfiction Prose (25%).
2. LANGUAGE ARTS, WRITING Part I: Organization (15%); Sentence Structure (30%); Usage (30%); Mechanics (25%); Part II: Essay (45-minute direct writing exercise).
3. MATHEMATICS: Number Operations and Number Sense (25%); Measurement and Geometry (25%); Data Analysis, Statistics, and Probability (25%); Algebra, Functions, and Patterns (25%).
4. SCIENCE: Life Science (45%); Earth and Space Science (20%); Physical Science (Chemistry and Physics) (35%).
5. SOCIAL STUDIES: National History (25%); World History (15%); Economics (20%); Civics and Government (25%); Geography (15%).

The tests are taken by adults who have not graduated from high school and who wish to demonstrate a level of educational achievement sufficient to earn a high school credential. The tests are administered regularly at more than 3,200 Official GED Testing Centers throughout the United States and Canada.

INTERPRETING GED TEST RESULTS

Performance on the GED Tests is reported in two ways:

(1) Standard scores & percentile ranks

Results on each of the five GED Tests are given as "standard scores" ranging from 200 to 800 and "percentile ranks" ranging from 1 to 99; higher scores result from correctly answering more test questions. Both scores compare the candidate's results to those for a recent representative national sample, or norm group, of graduating high school seniors. The percentile rank shows the percentage of the graduating seniors who earned scores at or below those of the candidate. For example, if a candidate's score is 450 with a percentile rank of 31, those numbers indicate that 31% of graduating high school seniors earned a score of 450 or lower.

(2) Pass or Non-Pass

The passing standard for the 2002 Series GED Tests is a minimum of 410 on each of the five tests in the battery AND an average (mean) score of 450 (equivalent to a total score of 2,250) on the total battery. This 410 and 450 passing standard is the minimum passing standard set by GED Testing Service® (GEDTS). Each state, province, and territory may set a passing standard that exceeds the GEDTS minimum requirement for earning a high school credential, but may not go below the GEDTS requirement. Adults who pass the GED Tests earn scores that meet or exceed the performance of that demonstrated by 40% of traditional high school graduates. If the candidate's scores meet or exceed the required passing standard, the "PASS" box is marked. If not, the "NON-PASS" box is marked. If the candidate has not taken all five tests, "INCOMPLETE" is marked. Candidates who do not meet the passing standard can retake the GED Tests in order to raise their scores. The local GED Examiner can provide information about retesting. Generally, further study is recommended in those test subject in which a candidate earns a standard score of 350 or below. These candidates are encouraged to contact local adult education programs and enroll in instructional classes.

A detailed description of the tests and the passing standard is given in the GEDTS publication, the Official GED Practice Tests Administrator's Manual, available from Steck-Vaughn, Customer Service, 5th Fl., 6277 Sea Harbor Dr., Orlando, Florida, 32887, 1-800-531-5015.

Ken!

On Friday, your two fine young men Tom and Jordan became our heroes for the month. We had a dead varmint that we had been looking for over a week. We could not find it, but my God we could smell it.

Long story short, I asked them to find and they did. They were awesome! Not only did they dispose of, but they took off the back of the fridge and cleaned everything under it and on it. They also did a great day's work on top of that. I sent them home with gift bags and if I had a million dollars I would of split it between the two of them.

So, those two lads will always be remembered here as the varmint hunters and our heroes!

Seriously, great kids. True rock stars!

Thanks for sending them,

Lisa
